

It's Raining

Randy Crawford

Now the pain has gone away
And our love is here to stay
And the quiet that surrounds us is the same
Though the rain is pouring down
He's glad you're still around
And your love grows stronger every day

Though we live, and we try
And even wonder why
Our love turned out this way
Though we live, and we try
And even wonder why
Our love turned out this way

It could might have well been over
But we stood the test of time
And with the rain the pain is washed away
And the clouds have passed us by
And there are rainbows in our eyes
And our love grows stronger every day

Though we live, and we try
And even wonder why
Our love turned out this way
Though we live, and we try
And even wonder why
Our love turned out this way

It's raining, it's raining
But our love is here to stay

It's raining, it's raining
But our love is here to stay

It's raining, it's raining
But our love is here to stay

It's raining, it's raining
But our love is here to stay
