

World Without Pain

Randy Stonehill

World Without Pain

All the earth will watch in silence
When love banishes the night
Every heart will worship in His light

And we'll all be together
In a world without pain
And we'll fly like eagles on the wing
His breath from which we came

All our longing will be over
Every secret shall be known
When His voice of thunder
Calls us home

And we'll all be together
In a world without pain
And we'll fly like eagles on the wing
His breath from which we came
