

Road To Surrender

Randy Travis

Dear Lord, I've heard You know when somebody gets hits the bottom of their soul
Oh Lord, I hope You see something that's worth saving when You look at me

Because I have no fight left in me now
I bring my pride and I lay it down
And on my knees, here at Your feet, I'll give you all that's left of me
Oh Lord, this weary, broken sinner is on a road to surrender

My life is in Your hands
They say no one can fix broken like You can Help me let it go, all the guilt that's held me under its control

I have no fight left in me now
I bring my pride and lay it down
And on my knees, here at Your feet, I'll give you all that's of me
Oh Lord, this weary, broken sinner is on the road to surrender

I don't know how to pray, or what I'm supposed to say
Because here they call it faith, but Lord I'm so afraid

Because I have no fight left in me now
I bring my pride and lay it down
And on my knees, here at your feet, I'll give you all that's of me
Oh Lord, this weary, broken sinner is on the road to surrender
Oh Lord, this weary, broken sinner is on a road to surrender