

Something Keeps Calling

Raphael Saadiq

Something keeps calling, me
I feel the burdens on me
Something keeps calling, me
This is so heavy, for me

You might say, I can never love again
Well you might be right, at least tonight
My friends say, I can never pull it together
Well they might be right, at least tonight

My kids say, I'll never come home again
And I know they're right, at least tonight
If I fail, my whole life goes to hell
And it don't seem right
I need help tonight

Something keeps calling, me
I feel the burdens on me
Something keeps calling, me
This is so heavy, for me

My wife says, I'll never have money again
And she might be right, I lost tonight
My heart says, I can get it all again
And I hope I'm right, but not tonight

The priest said, you're gonna lose family
And he might be right, at least tonight
My mind says, you should give it up today
Sounds awesome right, but not tonight

Something keeps calling, me
I feel the burdens on me
Something keeps calling, me
This is so heavy, for me

Something keeps calling, me
I feel the burdens on me
Something keeps calling, me
This is so heavy, for me

This is forever
(This is so heavy on me)
I'm never ever turning back
(This is so heavy on me)
I'm never
(This is so heavy on me)
So heavy on me
I'm never
