A Brand New Tune

Rare Americans

Day after day, night after night
If I got you and you got me, the future's looking bright, alright

My heart skips a beat when I feel your tiny little feet
Kicking towards the sky, man, does it ever feel so sweet?
I wonder what you'll look like when I see me inside your eyes
What a crazy thought, it's life's ultimate surprise
I thought a lot about what kind of father I would be
I hope I'm half as good as my dad's been to me
He allowed me space to form opinions 'bout the world
Encouraged me to travel, hold on to the right girl
He always played music, had damn good taste
And not just for tunes, but the food on a plate
But more than anything, unconditional love
He'd do anything for me, I'll be the same for you, bud

One thing is certain, life is changing soon
Who knows what will come as we're writing a brand-new tune?
It goes something like this, say

Day after day, night after night
If you fall, I'll catch you no matter what the height
Day after day, night after night
If I got you and you got me, the future's looking bright, alright

I can't wait to teach you everything I know
From your first little steps till I reach the end of my row
I'm gonna show you the world, I'm gonna help you find your scene
Teach you how to voice your thoughts and how to work hard towards you r dreams
The excitement is real, I had to put it to words
That we can sing about together, my boy (Or you a girl)
Will you have my fighting spirit? Your mom's love ability?
My passion for adventure and her stability?
We'll teach you kindness in a world so vast
To be strong and humble, to learn from the past
Only time will tell what a journey it will be
I can't wait for all the laughs and precious memories

One thing is certain, life is changing soon
Who knows what will come as we're writing a brand-new tune?
It goes something like this, say

Day after day, night after night
If you fall, I'll catch you no matter what the height
Day after day, night after night
If I got you and you got me, the future's looking bright, alright

Alright, alright