

Absent

Rarity

You think you're an angel
But heaven's shown you out
Because your heart's in the city (heart's in the city)
And your head's up in the clouds
You don't have the time for friends or life
You just want to push your bounds
So come on and figure it out

I'm lying on the sheets as you're crawling underneath me
Don't think too hard (Don't think too hard)
I'm lying on the ground
You're panicking and lost now
Don't lose your cool
Cause nothing lasts forever

Take it back three weeks
You were just eighteen, barely living a life at all
And now the paychecks turn to alcohol (now the paychecks turn to alcohol)
You don't have the time for friends or life
You just want to push your bounds
So come on and figure it out

I'm lying on the sheets as you're crawling underneath me
Don't think too hard (Don't think too hard)
I'm lying on the ground
You're panicking and lost now
Don't lose your cool, cause nothing lasts forever

Cause nothing last forever

You tore me down with all the negativity
(Now you're in the gutter all alone)
With nothing
So shape up and find your way back home

We're all ghosts in your eyes
Around you, but cast aside
We're all ghosts in your eyes

I'm lying on the sheets as you're crawling underneath me
Don't think too hard (Don't think too hard)
I'm lying on the ground
You're panicking and lost now
Don't lose your cool, cause nothing lasts forever
