

When the night is falling
So hard upon you
And the world is aiming
Heavy on your heart

When your soul is stranded
And you're barely standing
I will hold you, shield you, show you

I am standing by
And when you're lost
And think no one can find you
I will remind you
You're not alone
I will be there
I'll be the one to guide you
My love will be your compass
I will lead you home

When night is painting
Your world in shadows
And you're left feeling
Left out in the cold

When you're in the darkness
And this world feels heartless
I will see you, hear you, reach you

I am standing by
And when you're lost
And think no one can find you
I will remind you
You're not alone
I will be there
I'll be the one to guide you
My love will be your compass
I will lead you home

When you're in the storm
And you're in the darkness lost at sea
Grab my hand
Reach for me

I am standing by
And when you're lost
And think no one can find you
I will remind you
You're not alone
I will be there
I'll be the one to guide you
My love will be your compass
I will lead you home
