Head Over Heels

Rascal Flatts

Sitting here with you you ask me why my tongus is tied I've tryed to make some since of all these things I feel inside I've been searching for the perfect words to say They've been said a thousand times
But they mean more today

'Cause i'm head over heels for you and all of the things you do the heavens and earth have moved I'm falling head over heels for you

So baby there it is i've let it go and now you know It's funny how a feeling starts so small and starts to grow
I had every line rehearsed I'd say to you today then you looked into my eyes and they just slipped away

'Cause i'm head over heels for you
and all of the things you do
the heavens and earth have moved

Head over heels heart over mind you've got me body and soul I've never dreamed in a million years I'd lose complete control

I'm head over heels for you
and all of the things you do
the heavens and earth have moved
I'm falling head over heels for you Head over heels for you I'm falling head over heels for you oooo ohh I'm falling mmmm I'm falling
