

Break

Ratboys

Break another open door
To figure out what's really going on
I heard you go
A lonely figure
You were the only one
Ah

Lock the key and throw it down
Forget the crazy feeling, "I'll just skip town"
I was watching you there
With your head in your pillow
You were running from

But when the dark falls away
There's nothing there
Not a thing
You're okay
Go back to sleep

Lie and bring me to my knees
The shallow cut, again, it bleeds
So you bring it right back, bring it right back into the sun
I remember a bright light, but then it's gone

But it's on right now
Your favorite show
Once again
How it starts
And how it ends
You watch until
You fall asleep
It's just a bad dream
