

Scatter

Ratt

She was high in a New York skyscraper the other day
Lookin' out like a thief in the night just to get away
You're undercover, kill your lover
You couldn't stand it for another day
Your cold disguise, you realize I'm gonna make you pay

Scatter

Scatter

From the hound dog lookin' for the blood line

Scatter

Light the fuse, you're runnin' from the dynamite

Scatter

You try to hide all your feelings inside no matter what you say
I saw the signs but didn't realize you went the other way
So stop your lyin', start realizin'
I always thought that it was you that should make the change
You gave your life of crime a chance but didn't get away
