

Every Little Thing About You

Raul Malo

Twenty days, twenty lonely nights gone by
A million reasons left to cry
Things go wrong, only memories remain
Now you're gone and things have changed

People always wanna know why it is I miss you so
The truth is I don't even know

Every little thing about you
Makes it hard to live without you
I don't wanna think about you, and I try
Can't deny the way I feel about you
I know I'll be alright without you
In time I will forget about you
But I'm still missing every little thing about you

Better days lie ahead 'cause life goes on
Time will heal and make me strong

People still they wanna know why it is I miss you so
The truth is I may never know

Every little thing about you
Makes it hard to live without you
I don't wanna think about you, and I try
Can't deny the way I feel about you
I know I'll be alright without you
In time I will forget about you
But I'm still missing every little thing about you

Every little thing about you
Makes it hard to live without you
I don't wanna think about you, and I try
Can't deny the way I feel about you
I know I'll be alright without you
In time I will forget about you
But I'm still missing every little thing about you
