Well....
Well hello again
tell me where you've been it's been a while,
oh honey, my old friend

you've been there for me faithful as you can be you're the one, I count on, in the end

I wish it weren't so but that's how oh it seems to go one night your making memories then that's all you are Well hello again tell me where you've been it's been a while, oh honey, my old friend

I wish it weren't so but that's how it seems to go one night your making memories then that's all you are

here's to what might have been we've got no secrets no reasons to pretend

talk about old times laugh until we cry we haven't done this since i don't know when

here's to you old friend well hello again la la la lala well hello again la la la lala well hello again la la la la lala
