

How Could I Know

Raul Seixas

reformulation rearrange the game you're in let's start from the begin with confidence you'll win that's the reason you were born 'cause Jesus Christ, man won't be coming back no more he's set up his proper loss and you know well that he did just what he could have done when I was growing and my hair was getting longer I was feeling so much stronger I could carry my guitar and I knew that I could sing but, hey, how could I know the wind would blow in the rain? hey, how could I see what would they make out of me? when I was little used to dream I was a king now they taught me how to sing think I've got most everything I could ever as 'fore you've got your pencil your guitar, your amplifire you will set this world on fire like Nero did to Rome
but, hey, how could I know my eyes could see in the dark? hey, don't press on me I'm not to blame, cant you see?
it's been to long now since the latest reb has gone who knows will be the next to go down in History?