

Riptide

Rave the Requiem

The temple is burning as pages are turning
And altars are tainted with blood
The idols of worship are shattered to ashes
And scattered on the ruins of God

Who made the angels cry?
To drown the world and make sure nobody's still alive
My body's heavy but it won't let me sleep
Too strong is the riptide pulling beneath

Let me swim, let me hide
Let me breathe for a while
I will pray, I will pray
Make it right if you turn back the time
No heart was there for mankind
No one lives, nobody will forget
What we have done this time

The holy water is boiling, crucifix dissolving
And soiling my hands and my mind
The clergy is burning
Their cloth has their yearning
Dissatisfied, the beast deep inside

Who made the angels cry?
To drown the world and make sure nobody's still alive
My body's heavy but it won't let me sleep
Too strong is the riptide pulling beneath

Let me swim, let me hide
Let me breathe for a while
I will pray, I will pray
Make it right if you turn back the time
No heart was there for mankind
No one lives, nobody will forget
What we have done
Let me swim, let me hide
Let me breathe for a while
I will pray, I will pray
Make it right if you turn back the time
No heart was there for mankind
No one lives, nobody will forget
What we have done this time

I am ready
Let the rage devour me
I am ready
To be crushed by the jaws of the sea

Let me swim, let me hide
Let me breathe for a while
I will pray, I will pray
Make it right if you turn back the time
No heart was there for mankind
No one lives, nobody will forget
What we have done
Let me swim, let me hide

Let me breathe for a while
I will pray, I will pray
Make it right if you turn back the time
No heart was there for mankind
No one lives, nobody will forget
What we have done this time

I am ready
Let the rage devour me
I am ready
