

Stone

Raveena

Its true, I've made you tired of me
Confused but I'm starting to see
I'm always sad and can't make up my mind
Few days of bliss and then I fall back, so tired

Don't turn me away
I'll sit here quiet as a stone
Please let me stay
I promise soon I'll learn to let go

Six months from now it'll be the Summertime
By then I'll forget what it's like
To have you on my mind

You paint my dreams in sunsets
And places you told me we'd go
For all of the times that I let you down
You were no angel, no

I think its okay
We both made mistakes
That's the price of young love
I lay down and let
My hands touch the sky
It ain't cute to be helpless but

Don't turn me away
I'm happy to take the blame
How do I turn these tears
Into flowers from the rain

Don't turn me away
I'm happy to take the blame
How do I turn these tears
Into flowers from the rain

Two months from now it'll be the
W-wintertime
By then you'll forget what it's like
To have me on your mind

By then you'll forget
By then I'll forget
By then you'll forget
