

Between the Worlds

Ravenous

you are lost between the worlds you are lost inside yourself all your faces I have seen and yet you still surprise me always thought I knew the person always thought I knew you but right now I must confess that I know little of what you do illusions rose up in my mind illusions of our future created a perfect world but this world is without you always thought I could help you always thought you needed me but since then I have learned there was nothing I could do

CHORUS:

I walked the line and fell over almost lost myself within my world starts turning in a deadly evil spin
