

Storm

Ravenscode

Well, there's thunder all round me from the moment I awake
A voice inside my head asks how much more I can take
But I won't let it beat me 'cause now I'm in control
So make you're not around me, once it finally takes its toll
Once it finally takes its toll

'Cause it's the calm before the storm
And it's your last gasp of air right before you hit the floor
And it's your last escape, your last way out, don't say that yo u weren't warned
By the calm before the storm

Every time I feel this way, I know what happens next My blood starts to boil, I get a beating in my chest
I never really knew from where these feelings come
But I just know there here as my body goes numb
As my body goes numb

'Cause it's the calm before the storm
And it's your last gasp of air right before you hit the floor
And it's your last escape, your last way out, don't say that yo
u weren't warned
By the calm before the storm

My mind, it is racing, my heart, it is pounding
A feeling that I can't explain
My vision is blurring, my soul, it is screaming
And it's time to bring on the pain
'Cause it's the calm before the storm

Ooh, 'cause it's the calm before the storm
And it's your last gasp of air right before you hit the floor
And it's your last escape, your last way out, don't say that yo
u weren't warned
By the calm before the storm
'Cause it's the calm before the storm

My mind, it is racing, my heart, it is pounding
A feeling that I can't explain
My vision is blurring, my soul, it is screaming
And it's time to bring on the pain
