

Greetings

Ravyn Lenae

I thought the first thing you say
When you walked my way
Is hello, maybe
No it's cool, just wasn't expecting that
Although I should've... (I should've)
Based on the way you move across the room
I can see your face
Gleaming from the vapor that is dancing
On the window pane
Or maybe it's because your eyes speak to me every time you blink
Or maybe it's because my knees lock after every word you speak

You remind me of the summer
Racing through the thunder
Laughing with our shoes untied
You remind me of the summer
Dancing in his hummer
Maybe we should go outside
Do you have any plans after this
My friends are in the back with us
You should come along, if you're down for it
My friends are in the back with us
You should come along, if you're down for it
'His name is Ashton, say hello'

Hello, hello, hello, hello
Hello, hello
Hello, hello, hello, hello
Hello, hello

Do you like vacations?
Do you engage in conversations, with the strangest of the strangest
Or nah?
No I don't watch cable
And yes I like to wear my pants a little past the navel
Do you have any collections
Any small talents
Or bad habits?
Wishes that you would achieve if you would believe you had it?
Can you teach me how to whistle? (I can teach you how to whistle)

You remind me of the summer
Skating past the drummers
Let's turn up the stereo
Through the song I hear you utter
Your list of favorite colors
We should never go back home
What does your tattoo say, I can relate, stop looking away
I like this game you play, I'm glad you stayed
Next time just say hey
Say hey

Hello, hello, hello, hello
Hello, hello
Hello, hello, hello, hello
Hello, hello
