

She's Gone

Ray Charles

She's gone, G-O-N-E, gone, that's all
I'll be sitting and counting the raindrops
Yes, as they fall
The pain, P-A-I-N, pain is here again
'Cause our love affair is all over
But the heartaches just begin

Whoa-ho, I shoulda known better, hey
But now I can't forget her, no
I could still feel her lips on mine
Sending chills up and down my spine

Alone, A-L-O-N-E, and sad
It sure could hurt a man when he don't
Have what he thought he had
Yes, I'm hurtin', H-U-R-T-I-N
Yes, our love affair is all over
But the heartaches just begin

Well, I shoulda known better, hey
But now I can't forget her, no
I could still feel her lips on mine
Sending chills up and down my spine

Alone, A-L-O-N-E, and sad
You know, it sure could hurt a man when he don't
Have what he thought he had
I'm hurtin', well, I am, H-U-R-T-I-N
Yes, our love affair is all over
But the heartaches just begin

I say the love affair is all over
But the heartaches just begin
Well, alright, well, alright
Ooh, ooh, ooh
