

Broken Sky

Ray LaMontagne

I fell asleep to the sound of the radio
I dreamt I was surrounded
And I knocked 'em down like dominoes
When I woke up and opened my eyes
I was alone in some strange city
Choking on a broken sky

I still love you
I still love you

I don't believe in a God that's kind and fair
If there's a God at all
He's like a father who was never there
I don't believe we ever get born again
I don't believe that the surface of the moon was ever touched by man

I believe in you
I believe in you

When I wake up and I look around
I want to see the things you made
I want to see the things you found
I never wanted to be a superstar
I want to spend my life with somebody who knows who they are

I still love you
I still love you

I fell asleep to the sound of the radio
I dreamt I was surrounded
And I knocked 'em down like dominoes
When I woke up and opened my eyes
I was alone in some strange city
Choking on a broken sky
