

Forever My Friend

Ray LaMontagne

Who am I to tell her? Who am I to play God?
Who am I to think I can go it alone?

Something tells me, girl, this is bringing me down
Something tells me, girl, this is bringing me down

We've been through some changes
Always seem to hold on
Lately it feels like you can't take anymore

Something tells me, girl, this is bringing you down
Something tells me, girl, this is bringing you down

Forever my friend, forever my love
Forever the woman that I'm thinking of

I just think if we keep our hearts together
I just think if we build on this trust
That we have for one another
Maybe we can make this last a lifetime

Who am I to tell her? Who am I to play God?
I don't know just what's for real anymore

Something tells me, girl, this is bringing me down
Something tells me, girl, this is bringing me down

Maybe I'm wrong, maybe I'm right
Maybe it's the last thing you want to hear me say
I just think if we keep our hearts together
I just think if we build on this trust
That we have for one another
Maybe we can make this last a lifetime

Forever my friend, forever my love
Forever the woman that I'm thinking of
I just think if we keep our hearts together
I just think if we will build on this trust
That we have for one another
Maybe we can make this last a lifetime
