

Forgivin' Him

Ray Scott

Another night
Sittin' here on the phone with you cryin'
Cause he left you alone headin' who knows where
With who knows who

I don't mind
Babe ya know I'm right here anytime
But I'm tired of the tears he's puttin' on your cheek
This ain't nothin' new

So if you ever find that you're wastin' your time
Thinkin' he's gonna change and start treatin' you right
Don't hesitate
You know where I am
And if you wanna feel how it feels when a man
Would trade all that he's got for one touch of your hand
Don't forget me baby
When you're tired of forgivin' him

You know it's sad
How ya don't ever get nothin' back
For everything that you give
You know he doesn't deserve a woman like you

It's a shame
That you're walkin' around with his name
If you only knew how it kills me to see
The way he breaks your heart in two

And if you ever find that you're wastin' your time
Thinkin' he's gonna change and start treatin' you right
Don't hesitate
You know where I am
And if you wanna feel how it feels when a man
Would trade all that he's got for one touch of your hand
Don't forget me baby
When you're tired of forgivin' him

Yeah I know I might be crossin' the line
When I ask if you'd like to come over some night
And forget him baby
But I don't give a damn

Baby you need to feel how it feels when a man
Makes you know that he loves ya with one touch of his hand
Baby run to me
When you're tired of forgivin' him
Awww don't forget me baby
When you're tired of forgivin' him
