

Hell Got Raised

Ray Scott

Well my eyes are kinda burnin. it's danged near three A.M.
They done turned all the lights on and all the chairs are upside down
Old Scotty's pants are dirty from where he passed out on the floor
I can't say the scene was purty, but one thing I know for sure

Hell got raised again tonight, we were livin' wrong but we did it right
Yeah we plum shot up this town, found the bars and we closed 'em down
Got us a tan from the neon lights
Left our troubles back at home, threw back a few beers and forgot 'em all
That mornin sun's sure gonna be bright, 'cause hell got raised again tonight

Ya'll there ain't no way come mornin, this old head ain't gonna hurt
It's a shame tomorrow's Friday, 'cause I'm bound to blow off work
So I'll just get started early, kickin' off my long weekend
I'm pretty sure about 24 hours from now, I'll look around and say hey man

Hell got raised again tonight, we did it wrong but we did it right
Yeah we plum shot up this town, found the bars and we closed 'em down
Got us a tan from the neon lights
We left that BS back at home, we threw back a few shots and forgot it all baby
That mornin' sun's sure gonna be bright, 'cause hell got raised again tonight

Yeah hell got raised again tonight, we're too white to dance, too drunk to fight
Somebody's rollin' somethin' up, hey man let me try that stuff
Does anybody got a light
I shoulda checked in back at home, but I can't see the numbers on my phone
It's gonna be hard to face my wife, 'cause hell got raised again tonight

And that Waffle House sure does sound nice
'Cause hell got raised again tonight
