

Old Memory

Ray Scott

Hey there how've ya been?
It's kinda crazy runnin' into you like this
It 'bout knocked me out when I saw you walk in
You ain't changed a bit

I can't count the times
I've relived those windy Indiana nights
Moonlight on your face and that love in your eyes
Aww when you were mine

Babe, let's make an old memory new tonight
Do what you used to do that blew my mind
Let's drink some wine, go back in time
Make an old memory new tonight

You were my everything
Way back when but then that damned ol' hand of fate
Broke my heart and took you way too far away
But it brought you back today

So babe, let's make an old memory new tonight
Do what you used to do that blew my mind
Let's drink some wine, go back in time
Make an old memory new tonight

Aww babe, let's make an old memory new tonight
There's somethin' in the air and it just feels right
Let's drink some wine, make up for lost time
Make an old memory new tonight

Your place or mine
