

Walls

Ray Scott

She said good-bye and it's like she fell right off this earth Six long nights, I ain't seen hide nor hair of her
And this old Laz-E-Boy, is feelin' like my only friend There's sunshine shinin' on the world outside, but there ain't none shinin' in

Startin' now, somehow I've gotta leave her in my past Walk this floor right out that door Before these walls start talkin' back

And I bet the neighbors think either I've skipped town or I've bought the farm
I got my shades pulled down and there's a week's worth of paper s in my yard
Hey, what was that, did I just hear somebody call my name Oh, Lord knows I'm just a few thoughts shy of bein' certified i nsane
