

Disorder Down On The Border

Ray Stevens

Oh there's disorder down on the border
Yeah trouble like we've never seen before
Oh there's disorder down on the border
Yeah they're turning our border into a revolving door

Now I'm not a big conspiracy guy
But we're being told stuff that just don't fly
And people are taking advantage of us
Because Americans are kind-hearted

Sending children to break down the system
And blaming us if we resist them
Is a plot hatched in a smoke-filled room
And our troubles are just getting started

Politicians using children
And for that there's no excuse
Why, it's nothing more than
A case of international child abuse

Oh there's disorder down on the border
Yeah trouble like we've never seen before
Oh there's disorder down on the border
Oh they're turning our border into a revolving door

Well it's "build a wall" then, "don't build a wall"
"Don't come" then, "come one and all"
People don't understand us
And I'm not talking about our language

Weirdos trying to change the world
Telling girls they're boys
And boys, they're girls
It's like trying to tell us a ham and cheese
Is a peanut butter sandwich

Well, you don't get ham and cheese
From a peanut butter jar
And you don't confuse and abuse the children
This time, they've gone too far

Yes and there's disorder down on the border
Yeah troubles like we've never seen before
Oh there's disorder down on the border
Oh they're turning our border into a revolving door

Well when we complain about the situation
They scream we're anti-immigration
But that's not true
We're simply honest people and we care
About the folks in line
Who play by the rules
You know they deserve consideration too
And letting law-breakers jump the line
Is just not fair

Cartels are making millions

While politicians are playing games
And Americans are being played for fools
And it's a crying shame

Cause there's disorder down on the border
Yeah troubles like we've never seen before
Oh there's disorder down on the border
Well they're turning our border into a revolving door

Oh there's disorder down on the border
Yeah troubles like we've never seen before
Oh there's disorder down on the border
Yeah they turned our border into a revolving door
