

Let Your Love Be a Light Unto the People

Ray Stevens

Alright

Ha ha, hey, hey now

Hey, everybody come along, mmm, yeah
Aw, everybody sing my song, yeah
Well, sing a little song of love and laughter
Sing another happy ever after
Everybody got to come and sing along

Hey (Hey) sister, come and follow me
Hey (Hey) brother, let your mind be free
Yeah, drop those chains of hate and fear
And let our love ring loud and clear
And hold it high for all the world to see

And let our love be a light unto the people
Let our voices unite in a happy song
Let our hearts be a haven for the weary heavy-laden
And we lay that devil down where he belong

Alright

Aw, mister, don't just stand and stare
Well, now don't you see your brother lying there?
Now, now, there's no time for foolish pride
Don't keep your feelings locked inside
Now's the time to show you really care

Hey (Hey), look around you, can't you see? Mmm
(Hey) World's too full of apathy
Well, if we're to unlock that door
To peace on earth forevermore
We got to let our love act as the key

Let our love be a light unto the people
Let our voices unite in a happy song
Let our hearts be a haven for the weary heavy-laden
And we lay that devil down where he belong

Oh, let our love be a light unto the people
Let our voices unite in a happy song
Let our hearts be a haven for the weary heavy-laden
And we lay that devil down where he belong
