Requiem

Ray Toro

You can run away
from all the things that hurt you in the past.
And you can hide away
or face the truth and live your life at last.

Remember your sons, their names.
Remember the love they gave.
Remember your daughters' names.
Remember the lives they saved.

Now take me away.
Now take me away.
Now take me away.
Now take me away.

Trying to make sense of the madness in this world.
Nothing's never change, our pain goes on and on.
In the face of hardship, stand up tall and proud.
Sing this melody, honor their memory.

Take me away.
Take me away.
Take me away.

You've got one life, so make it right.
If I had one more chance, I wouldn't take it back.
Don't die in vain, please light the flame.
And fill the sadness in your heart with memories of us.

Now take me away
to where the love flows free it's time to say goodbye.
Take me away
to where our love has won, so baby don't you cry.

Now take me away
to where the love flows free it's time to say goodbye.
Take me away
to where our love has won, so baby don't you cry.

Take me away.
Take me away.
Take me away.
Take me away.
