

Objects In The Mirror

Rayland Baxter

People love you when they on your mind
Thought is love's currency
I been thinkin' 'bout her all the time
Seen somebody put together perfectly
What would I have to do to call you mine?
Someone like you is so hard to find
You can open up your eyes, you can walk in blind
Better hurry, I won't hurt you, don't you worry
Listen to me, I'm gonna set you free
He ain't gonna break your heart again
Go through the worst to reach the ecstasy
When your imagination on pretend
I never thought that it would feel this way
You never taught me how to heal the pain
I wish you caught me on a different day
When it was easier to be happy

Just a little taste and you know she got you
Can you hide away? Can you hide away?
Sound of silence as they all just watch you
I kinda find it strange how the times have changed

I wish we could go and be
Free once, baby, you and me
We could change the world forever
And never come back again
Let's leave it all in the rear-view
Leave it all in the rear-view, girl
You don't have to cry

Mend a broken heart, if you can
Don't expect you to be capable
You got the world right in your hand
That responsibility is inescapable
I promise that I'll be a different man, please
Give me the chance to go and live again, I'm Havin' trouble, can you give a hand?
It seems perfection really is so unattainable
Don't even say you 'bout to end it all
Your life is precious, you don't need to go and kill yourself
I'm not so sure that there's an end at all
I wish the truth would just go and would reveal itself

Who do you call to make it to the top?
And who do you call to make the shootin' stop?
And who do you call to give the coupe a wash?
After everything I did I think I'm still myself

Just a little taste and you know she got you
Can you hide away? Can you hide away?
Sound of silence as they all just watch you
I kinda find it strange how the times have changed

I wish we could go and be
Free once, baby, you and me
We could change the world forever
And never come back again

Let's leave it all in the rear-view
Leave it all in the rear-view, girl
Leave it all in the rear-view
Let's leave it all in the rear-view, girl
