

For Georgia

Razorlight

Well she had an old record but nowhere to play it
There was something on her mind
But she just couldn't say it
I said, oh what on earth do you mean
Then the band started playing the beat's all wrong
The singer lost the words to his favourite song
And they fell upwards forever

But I, I've been told
And now you're by my side
And the night is ours
The night's torn open wide
As me, as me

With your hair up high and your jeans down low
You're beautiful, beautiful don't you know
Oh, I could stare at you forever

Life's so simple and life's complex
And you never work out what do you expect
I said, oh what more could you need

And now you're here
Now you're by my side
And the night is ours
The night's torn open wide
As me, as me, as me
