

Damn

Read Southall Band

You ain't worth my anger
You ain't worth my pain
You ain't worth the pride that comes along with my last name
You ain't worth my wages
You ain't worth my wine
It's taken me so long to find you ain't worth my time
You ain't worth my time

And I always thought the words in your bedroom talk were true
Come to find it was all a lie, of no substance to you
Don't come back this way some sunny day, I won't be your man
'Cause you, you ain't worth a damn

You ain't worth no sleepless nights when you left me here to stay
You ain't worth my buddy's time tellin' me it'll be okay
You ain't worth this heartache, hun', you ain't worth the this

If that's what you call love then honey, he can have it all
I said "he can have it all"

And I always thought the words in your bedroom talk were true
Come to find it was all a lie, of no substance to you
Don't come back this way some sunny day, I won't be your man
'Cause you, you ain't worth a damn
Ain't worth a damn

And I always thought the words in your bedroom talk were true
Come to find it was all a lie, of no substance to you
Don't come back this way some sunny day, I won't be your man
'Cause you, you ain't worth a damn
Ain't worth a damn
