

Cold Blooded

Real Friends

You make me feel like my feet hang above the ground
I fight for air but you won't cut my rope down
You made me see the blinding frailty of trust
Like a thorn in my eye
I had to cut you out

You left me with a taste of the end
Must have hit a nerve when I said
"Can't you see you're so cold blooded?"
You left me with a taste of the end
Sick of all the bitterness
Can't you see you're so cold? (So cold)
You're so cold blooded

It's hard to stitch my own back with these shaky hands
But even harder to accept the scars you left were planned
We were bound to end this way
Cause you're a wolf among the sheep
Hiding in plain sight waiting for me

You left me with a taste of the end
Must have hit a nerve when I said
"Can't you see you're so cold blooded?"
You left me with a taste of the end
Sick of all the bitterness
Can't you see you're so cold? (So cold)
You're so cold blooded

In the silences it rings
You never really cared about me
Resentment sets in deep
You never really cared about me

You never fucking cared
You never really cared
You never really cared about me

You left me with a taste of the end
Must have hit a nerve when I said
"Can't you see you're so cold blooded?"

You left me with a taste of the end
Must have hit a nerve when I said
"Can't you see you're so cold blooded?"
You left me with a taste of the end
Sick of all the bitterness
Can't you see you're so cold? (So cold)
You're so cold blooded
