Exploding Bullets

Real Life

Stand close to me, my little friend
It's so heart to see, let's no pretend

There's danger in the night for you and me
There's men with armalite who kill for free

Sirens wailing, and I am waiting
For my exploding bullets

Speak so softly now if you speak at all
I think I'm ready now, I hear a call

Sirens wailing, and I am waiting
For my exploding bullets
Sirens wailing, and I am waiting
For my exploding bullets

But wait a minute
But wait a minute
But wait a minute
Wait a minute!

With a fluttering heart I wait for men
With minds like, like steel traps
Softly singing in distorted time
Time, time
We've got to get out of here
We've got to get out of here
We've got to get out of here!
But listen, but listen
But listen to the sirens
They haven't been used since the war
But, but this is the war!

Sirens wailing, and I am waiting
For my exploding bullets
Sirens wailing, and I am waiting
For my exploding bullets

Sirens wailing, and I am waiting
For my exploding bullets
Sirens wailing, and I am, I am waiting
For my exploding bullets

It's never too late
It's never too late
It's never too late
It's never too late
It's never too late
It's never... to late
