

A Sorrowful Reunion

Reality Club

She wondered when the raindrops fell
She wondered why her cheeks were wet
And she entrusted a secret
That I could not have kept

I wonder where she is tonight
And wonder why the dawn was so bright
I couldn't contain it
Sank into the pavement

The sorrowful reunion
Was inevitable
Living an illusion, oh we were so compatible
And I miss all the X and Os
Do you regret the path you chose?

He looks as if he knows the way
So calm in his confliction
Though I know there's a storm here
Through his eyes I will hide my fear

I wonder why he's so composed
Though life seems to hand out troubles on a tray
Well I can't escape it
Hid down in the basement

The sorrowful reunion
Was inevitable
Living an illusion, oh but we're so compatible
And I miss all the X and Os
Do you regret the path you chose
With me?
