REASON

Yeah

How much your love cost?
I did the most and put my heart right on my sleeves and jackets
Givin' you passion, spendin' my last just to see a reaction
Hopin' for traction
Like one day, we'll have a seed when I plant it
And I'll erase my upcomin'
You know I was raised by the bastards
Blue flaggin'
A stray bullet turned a kid into a memory, tragic
I gave so much, it turned you spoiled
Now the most just simply feel like bare minimum
It's hard to view the cup as half full with hate filling up
It's hard to tell you that your friends lyin', you keep believe in 'em
I could've fucked that same friend when we broke up
She lent a shoulder to me to cry on Ain't take it 'cause I knew that'd be the same shoulder our love died on Yeah, spared you knowin' truths 'cause I just knew that if you knew it'd be on me somehow
Like, "Why she so comfortable with you to start reachin' out?"
And I'm confused like, "What we speakin' 'bout?"
How much your trust cost?

Yeah, I fucked up and ran amok, it fucked you up now we at heavy odds
How much your trust cost?
Your ex ran a bigger muck and you think I'll complete his marathon
We both came with baggage, let shit fly, we just have to carry on
A new love can be scary, this shit deeper than a baritone
Attracted to each other like the air was filled with pheromones
Just tell me what it cost so I can pay it off
How much your love?

Love is stiff, your love don't minimize
What you see is what you get
Do you feel how I feel inside?
Will this work or do we let it slide?
Love is fluid, shouldn't have to wonder why
It's like you paralyzed, yeah
It's like you paralyzed, yeah
It's like you paralyzed

Man, uh

Heard you poppin' out, the thought of that just sent me to the ground
Tell me how that sound when you the one I try to love out loud?
Know that I'll be foul, if I go and catch your nigga out of bounds
Hope that I don't drown, you know this datin' shit so watered down
Hope you went and found how much your love cost, uh (How much your love cost
Some titties and a new purse
Some shit I could reimburse, I figured you know your worth
Know my spirit need cleansing, admit that I did my dirt
I recognize that I'm bitter, I'm screamin', "I hit it first"
My hunger done really grow, it was hittin' in on my thirst
So as you say you willin', I throw this bitch in reverse
Anxious to come and show these lessons I finally learned
Homies told you, "Be cold", ironic, them bitches burnt

Make it worse 'cause we had better days
Thought this shit was bulletproof, I'm on your page, I'm catchin' strays
I hate to say that this shit temporary
The soil rotten 'cause of feelings that I thought I buried
Just let me know how much your love cost

And girl, I'll gladly pay the ticket for you
Whenever we are beat, I'm steady switchin' up my rhythm for you
Sometimes I fuck up and we at heavy odds
But when you ran amok, I turn to Lauren London, stickin' to my marathon
We both came with baggage, let shit fly, so we just had to carry on Left a couple times but got a fear of doin' shit alone
Attracted to each other like the air was filled with pheromones
Just tell me what it cost so I can pay it off
