

The Wish

Rebeka

take me back take me take me back to the bright light to the light light take me back I will stand outside take me back 'cause I can't stop lying take me back take me take me back to the bright light to the bright light take me back I will wait outside take me back 'cause I can't stand this lying to the light take me to the light to the light take me to the light light take me back take me take me back to far green lands to fresh starts I can be your outfit inside but I'd need a soft bed below me If you, you are gone
I will be singing inside you I will unravel my heart I'll know there's something surrounding you will never worry you will never hide me I'll never hurt you and you will never hurt me
