

Destiny

Reckless Love

Smoking at the kitchen window
Waiting till you're making your way back home
Sunrise on the street down below
I wonder why I just couldn't leave you alone

That night you invaded my soul
And I confess that I wanted to tell you no
But that's not the way that it goes
You know

Everybody's got to love somebody
And I know there ain't no use to fight it
When I hold you in my arms
It feels like destiny

Everybody's gotta love somebody
I am never going to deny it
When I look into your eyes
I face my destiny

I see lovers come and they go
And I know that you're taking me for a fool
A fool's heart has a will of its own
And sometimes what the heart desires is cruel

Sorrow's biting down to the bone
I realize you're the mean woman that I choosed
The craziest thing that I'll do
It was to fall in love with you

Everybody's gotta love somebody
And I know there ain't no use to fight it
When I hold you in my arms
It feels like destiny

Everybody's gotta love somebody
I am never going to deny it
When I look into your eyes
I face my destiny

All life's too short
And all true love hurts
If you really wanna live forever
Better love someone who will remember
It all turns to dirt

Everybody's gotta love somebody
And I know there ain't no use to fight it
When I hold you in my arms
It feels like destiny

Everybody's gotta love somebody
I am never going to deny it
When I look into your eyes
I face my destiny
