

Bullets & Armor

Red Line Chemistry

I'm under fire by the motherfucker motivated by the will to kill

He wants the death, he wants the death of me
I can't go on until this broken little heart of mine is whole a gain

Now I wonder if this rope around my neck
Will choke my inner child and soul away
No, nothing's harder
No, nothing's harder

And don't let go of
Everything you wanted, let it play out
Despite all the world that long to put you underground

There's something wrong with me, the killer in me
God, it's every day another day, another day, another side of m e
You throw the stone, I'll rip my skin right off the bone and gi ve you all of me

Now I'm under fire, relentless they can be I'll throw my armor on and walk away
No, nothing's harder
No, nothing's harder

And don't let go of
Everything you wanted, let it play out
Despite all the world that long to put you underground

Load up your rounds
Nothing's harder
Bury the pain
I'm never going down
