

Change Your Mind

Red Shahan

These people they talk about you like I'm not around
In our favorite dive that's soon to be closing down
Street lights burnt orange I drive around in this desert storm
And I can't seem to get your shadow off of my heels

But if I bought you your favorite watch
And didn't speak a word about what it cost
If I gave you a million hours
Of my undivided thoughts
If I took you for a ride
Out to the country to see the city lights
Would it change your mind

Your sister your mother your brother and his new found lover for the week
They eat up all the shit you talk about me
But I know I know I know something that none of them know and I saw your dad
Kissin' on the neighbors new wife

But if I bought you your favorite watch
And didn't speak a word about what it cost
If I gave you a million hours
Of my undivided thoughts
If I took you for a ride
Out to the country to see the city lights
Would it change your mind

But if I bought you your favorite watch
And didn't speak a word about what it cost
If I gave you a million hours
Of my undivided thoughts
If I took you for a ride
Out to the country to see the city lights
Would it change your mind
