

Soldiers Falling

Red Wanting Blue

Take your time
I don't need anything
Take my life
If you think I can help with this
Oh, I'm alright
I promised you all this, but I...
Need some time to figure out all of this
To figure out where everything went wrong
When our lips divide
And space begins
Our love looks like soldiers falling
We're falling
If everything's alright
Where you been?
Looking for our soldiers falling
We're falling
Telephone line
In love with a steady ring
What once shined
Is duller than anything
Are you alright?
I promised you everything, so I...
Need some time to figure the reasons why
Rings and fingers no longer belong
When our lips divide
And space begins
Our love looks like soldiers falling

We're falling
If everything's alright
Let me in
Otherwise we're soldiers falling
We're falling
We're not communicating now
And doubt's insinuating now
This love is quickly fading
We're not communicating now
So damn the do or die
If you think it'll help with this
When our lips divide
And space begins
Our love looks like soldiers falling
We're falling
If everything's alright
Where you been?
Looking for our soldiers falling
We're falling
When our lips divide
And space begins
Our love looks like soldiers falling
We're falling
If everything's alright
Let me in
Otherwise we're soldiers falling
We're falling
Take your time
I don't need anything
