

The War We Made

Red

Hear a voice when the light is gone
Never know whose side it's on
Think you're gonna see someone
But you are the only one

But am I alone, am I alright
Am I insane, am I alive
What does it take to
Stop waging war with
All I thought I wanted
All I thought I needed

Waking up from myself
To a life outside this hell
No more lies, no more pain
You can't fight the war we made
The war we made

You thought the worst was done
But it's there when the morning comes
You lie awake
Under the weight of the fear
Just let it go, it isn't real

All I thought I wanted
All I thought I needed

Waking up from myself
To a life outside this hell
No more lies, no more pain
You can't fight the war we made
The war we made
The war we made
The war we made
The war we made

Hear a voice when the light is gone
Never know whose side it's on
Think you're gonna see someone
But you're still the only one

But am I alone, am I alright
Am I insane, am I alive
What does it take to
Stop waging war with
Am I alone, am I alright
Am I insane, am I alive
What does it take to
What does it take to

Waking up from myself
To a life outside this hell
No more lies, no more pain
You can't fight the war we made
The war we made
The war we made
The war we made

The war we made
