

Message From A Drum

Redbone

When the ones you thought you knew
Turn their backs on you
Another side of life to face
Some haven't used a thing

'Cos it hurts to find some people unkind
Yes it hurts to find some people unkind

All in time our wounds are healed
By those very warm.
You forget this other side
When good outweighs the bad?

'Till it hurts to find some people unkind
'Till it hurts to find some people unkind

Can you win or lose what you've really got
Or had?
When your eyes can see through mine

La, la la
