

King Again

Redlight King

I've been used, I've been chained, and I've been broke
I've been a fool, I've been afraid, I've been alone
In the hardest times I thought I had to sell my soul
Another doubt, another day on a dead end road

Legends never die, live and breath, never fade
Born from the ashes of the heartache and pain
Legends never die and so I try to make a change
Gotta leave something behind and make a name

Can't you see I'm rising up
I'm climbing up out of the dust, my friend
I'm the King again
I'm rising up, I made my way back from where I've been
I'm the King again

I've been bruised, I've been burned and under arrest
Another rule, another turn, another test
It's taken everything I got until I got none
The world is wicked, ain't no rest for the wickedness

Legends never die, live and breath, never fade
Born from the ashes of the heartache and pain
Legends never die and so I try make a change
Gotta leave something behind and make a name

Can't you see I'm rising up
I'm climbing up out of the dust, my friend
I'm the King again
I'm rising up, I made my way back from where I've been
I'm the King again

I'm the King again
I'm the King again
I'm the King again
I'm the King again

Can't you see I'm rising up
I'm climbing up out of the dust, my friend
I'm the King again
I'm rising up, I made my way back from where I've been
I'm the King again

Can't you see I'm rising up
I'm climbing up out of the dust, my friend
I'm the King again
I'm rising up, I made my way back from where I've been
I'm the King again
