

better

Redveil

Trouble on my mind, I'm scared
I feel like a stranger in my head
I just wanna be here, why I need a reason?
I need you right here too, where you tryna be at?
I hate when you throw up peace signs and wave goodbye
All your clouds and sunshine, I miss those times, you'd say

Take it, take it, take it from me
It gets better, better, better when you wait a little minute, hm
Take it, take it, take it from me
It gets better, better, better when you give it time
Take it, take it, take it from me
It gets better, better, better when you wait a little minute, hm
Take it, take it, take it from me
It gets better when you give it time

And baby every once in a while I need a favor
Keep the extra shit leave humanity on the table
I know what I'm living would once resemble a fable
But I could live without all the flashing and cut the cable
No pain to remain in my truth
Never been vain or cut as the same as these lames and I knew
That when them veins extend that growing pain apart of the language
We all speak to each other in a perfect arrangement
But, I keep it pushing 'cause notes increase in semitones
Want my kin in plenty homes, not in central booking
Overlooking the conditions how we keep on end up missing
All the times, like when we share a laugh and them giggles get your mind right
Maybe I just need to wait for us to get the time right
Saw through this in hindsight
Blessing and a curse when you start to touch the limelight
But I stand on this Earth knowing I'm in the perfect climb
Full circle moments sublime, they make every second worth it
My mother said you touch that dream as long you deserve it
I came from fighting for a day to smile to happy verses
So trust me dawg, I know the feeling when you steady hurting
So I don't wanna talk unless you do that shit in person
I played the waiting game and now that karma reimbursing
I'm miles away from when that pain would only seem to worsen
So when I hit that pavement I'm ready to break the surface, yeah

Take it, take it, take it from me
It gets better, better, better when you wait a little minute, hm
Take it, take it, take it from me
It gets better, better, better when you give it time
Take it, take it, take it from me
It gets better, better, better when you wait a little minute, hm
Take it, take it, take it from me
It gets better when you give it time

I don't wanna, I don't wanna talk
I don't wanna, I don't wanna, I don't wanna talk
I don't wanna, I don't wanna, I don't wanna talk
I don't wanna, I don't wanna, I don't wanna talk (Talk, talk)
I feel like a stranger in my head
I feel like a stranger in my head

I don't wanna talk, nigga
