

All I Want

Reef

If I sent you home, would you come again?
And if I said farewell, is that where you'd begin?
And if I sent you home, would you come on in?
And if you say you won't, then I know you will.

I was all alone, like a father with no son.
You were like a dream, woken up just as begun.
I was left alone with the promise that you made.

All I want to do is make it over you,
I want to.
All I want to do is make it over you,
I want to.

And if I said farewell, then we're on our own.
You know I never thought I'd say the words,
But you know you can't have all the hurt.

I was all alone, like a father with no son.
You were like a dream, woken up just as begun.
I was left alone with the promise that you made.

All I want to do is step up for you,
Tell me is it true,
I will come back to you,
I said I would.
