

Alone

Reflections

Revisiting a place
Where I once
Knew what I wanted
I held it all
In the palm
Of my hands

Alone in the dark
This is when it starts
Emotions all depart
I can feel it in my heart

Broken piece of art
Decisions not so smart
Through peril I embark
These feelings all so sparse
The empty in me
Is all that I can be
Without my misery
I'd have no memories

Thoughtless
Although, I'm haunted

By emotions inside
Can't seem to
Close my eyes
Sleepless
Leave me dreamless
Nocturnal nights
Accompanied
Only by time

Life is a game
My head is a maze
Everyday it's changed
While all else is the same
Losing view of who
I once knew as you
I'm becoming nothing
What do I do

Don't you ever get sick
Of talking shit
Look at yourself
You fucking hypocrite

I just want this to be over

Keep speaking of me
Like a dead man
Let's call it like it is
We both know

I am one

Tired bones

And broken souls
Born and bread
To be controlled
The only way
To break away
Is to lose the idea
Of our sanity
