

Empathy

Reflections

Like broken records
I've heard it all before
Same old stories
Fall to the floor

Lonely souls desperate for validation
Telling tales from their imagination
I can see your jealousy wants me in the dirt
But we both know I'd put you there first

I feel no guilt
I have no shame
I am karma
This is not a game

Do as you would have done to you
It doesn't matter what you've been through
We all see through the same view
There's no fucking excuse

But if I ever decide in my mind
That you're the type of person that thrives from the demise
Of others well being to benefit your life
Trust me, you won't forget what its like

I feel no guilt
I have no shame
I am karma
This is not a game

Reap what you sow
Pay what you owe
Get what you give
Forget don't forgive

Reap what you sow
Pay what you owe
Get what you give
Forget don't forgive
