

From Nothing

Reflections

All that I am
Came from nothing

No lies
Story of my life
I lost it all right in front of my eyes
No time to sympathize
Push it down, internalize
Endless nights
Locked inside my mind
Nowhere to go
Just keep it to yourself

I am alive for the first time
I didn't leave you
You left yourself behind
You left yourself behind

Tell me something
If it wasn't for the name would you still treat me the same
Or would you turn and walk away?
There is nothing that I'd enjoy more
Than if things could just go back to the way they were before
But no
This will never be okay
Even when you say you'll stay, you're always gone anyway
So please
Don't make a promise you can't keep
No need to try to cry to me
I promise I'm not losing sleep

All my life
I've been waiting to die
Night by night I dream of suicide
I realize I've been trying to hide
From the monster within me, dwelling inside
Why, oh, why did it have to be me?
I've asked this endlessly, but now I finally see
I am the one to blame
For the pain and the scars
I couldn't handle my mind
So I tore it apart

If I don't believe in myself
Why would anyone else?
If I don't believe in myself
Why would anyone else?