

Good Push - Redux

Reflections

Take a step back
These surroundings are signs
Where do you think that
You can go

I'm on your side
You are so much better than this
I'm on your side
We can breathe on our own ground
This world could be ours
If you would listen to what I have to say

Trust me

I have been down these streets
That as of now you call your home
And I promise, I promise
It won't be this way forever

I have been down these streets
That as of now you call your home
I promise
It won't be this way forever

Consider this a new beginning

I see, the smile behind your eyes
You cannot hide from me
Maybe, someday you'll notice
That this all happened for a reason

I see, the smile behind your eyes
You cannot hide from me
Maybe, someday you'll notice
That this all happened for a reason

This all happens for what?

This all happens
This all happens
This all happens for a reason

This all happens
This all happens
This all happens for a reason