

Your Boyfriend Hates Me

Reggie and the Full Effect

You don't have to run away
I was never just a toy
Why don't you look me in the eyes, and see the news
You were never there the day
Fate and I we knocked on you door
Why don't you read between the lines and tell the truth

What's your man do when you're alone
You'll never know

Your were always in the way
When I crawled up across your floor
Always the notion to get by, I know it's you
You will never have to say
That you ever had the bore
Wish you'd uncross those evil lies and let me through

What's your man do when you're alone
You'll never know
What's your stand, now you're on your own
You'll never know

Who were you to blame
Now that it's for more
And you think that there's a light inside of me
You were just the same
Just the same before
Now you want to see a light inside of me

Inside of me
One, two, three, four

You don't have to runaway
I will never be a boy
Why don't you look me in the eyes and see the news
You won't ever have to say
That you ever had a chore
I wish you'd read between the lines and let me through

What's your man do when you're alone
You'll never know
What's your stand, now you're on your own
You'll never know
What's your man do when you're alone
You'll never know
What's your stand, now you're on your own
You'll never know
You'll never know
